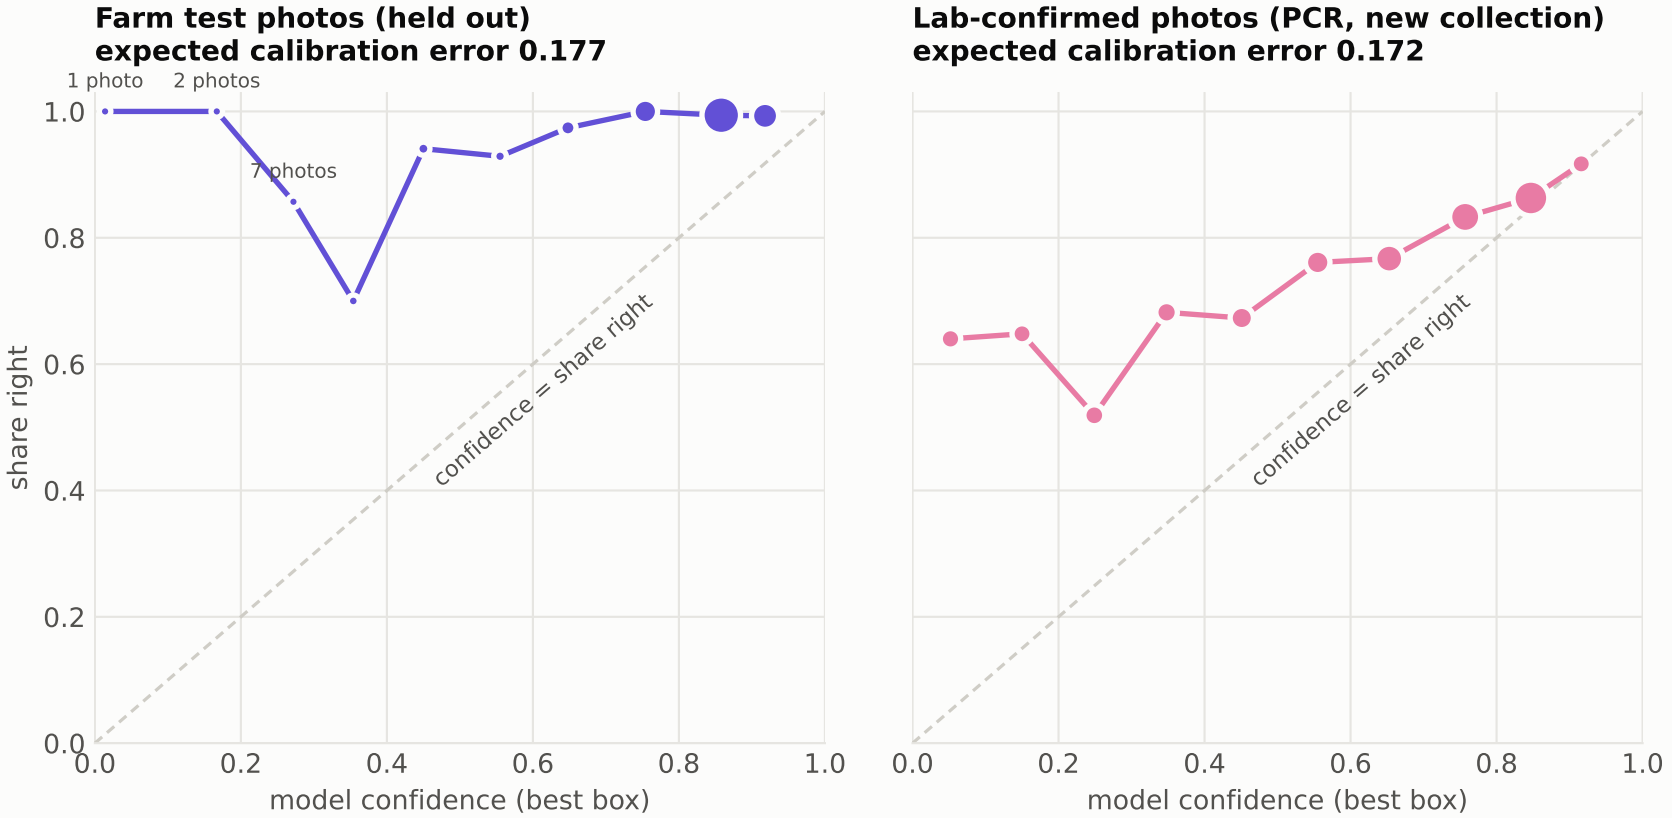
The box score is not a probability: the model is right more often than its score says


Photos grouped into ten score bins, dot size shows how many photos each holds. Bins with under 10 photos are labelled and should not be read. The score ranks photos well (fig. 8) but needs calibrating before it is shown as a percentage.